FREAKS OF A CYCLONE.

Unaccountable Things Done by the Recent Twister in Kansas.

Mother Killed While Babe in Her Arms Is Unharmed-Paint Blown Off a Barn-Watch Blown Through a Cow-Other Queer Incidents.

The awful cyclone that swept over northern Kansas bringing death to 30 people, injuries to many, and destroy ing property valued in the aggregate at millions, demonstrated again that the wind bloweth where it listeth and is no respector of men or conditions. Many stories of the storm's grewsome work, of its fantastic capers and eccentric performances, are now at hand.

Mrs. Knotte, living near Scneca, who was blown from her home, was found dead, with her living babe clasped in her rigid arms.

An oak stave was driven clear through cow's body.

A frame in which a large mirror was set was smashed to splinters, but not a crack or blemish could be discovered on he glass.

A schoolhouse was blown away, leav ing the floor undisturbed, with the chairs and desks remaining upright in

The paint on a barn near Irving was rubbed off. Otherwise the barn was uninjured.

Three boys in a schoolhouse at Palmer were blown 50 feet through the air, but were deposited on the ground without njury. The building was wrecked. Entire orchards were entirely up ooted. At Frankfort, it is said, a watch was lown through a cow without stopping icking.

A field was furrowed by the wind as hough it had been done by a plow. The only person in one district who uffered no damage was the only peron who carried cyclone insurance. A barrel of lime was lifted up and its ontents scattered over fruit trees as perfectly as any horticulturist could have done it. One man had his stable blown into the next township, but his horse, cow, calf and buggy, which had been in the barn.

were found next morning on the ground where the barn had formerly stood. Chickens, ducks and geese were entirely stripped of feathers. A farmer was riding a horse and leading four others. Lightning killed him and the four horses he was leading The horse he was riding was not in-

Every tree in a grove of 200 cottonwoods was twisted off at a distance of six feet from the ground.

The house of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, near Bigelow, was blown away while they were sleeping. They were only slighty scratched.

The house of Robert Sweeney, at Reerve, was blown away. His two boys were in bed together. One was killed, while the other was uninjured.

A 12-year-old girl at Preston was blown through a window, but was not injured. The shafts of a buggy were driven en tirely through a telegraph pole.

World-Wide Fame, Killed. Attacked by a big alligator, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dyches, of Leesburg, Fla. would have been torn to pieces but for the coolness displayed by the woman As it was, Mr. Dyches lost his right arm and one of Mrs. Dyches' legs was broken.

The couple were out driving near drive by when the latter made a stroke with its tail that smashed the buggy and brought Mr. and Mrs. Dyches to the ground. The alligator then rushed on Mr. Dyches and tore off his right arm.

Mrs. Dyches, who had regained her feet, seized a stick and struck the allitail, knocking the woman down and breaking one of her legs. As Mrs. Dyches fell her hand came in contact with a pistol that had dropped from her husband's pocket. She grasped the weapon and fired at the reptile as it rushed upon her. The bullet struck ; vital spot, and the alligator died as it was about to seize the brave woman.

Mrs. Dyches will recover, but it is feared the shock and loss of blood will kill her husband.

FATAL EFFECT OF SERUM. Child of a Berlin Physician Dies Immediately After Injection.

A profound sensation has been caused among medical men of Germany and France through the fatal effects attending the administration of the famous anti-diphtheretic serum in the case of a child of an eminent Berlin physician. A servant in the physician's household showing signs of diphtheria, the doctor, to prevent his child from contracting the disease, administered an injection of the serum and the child died in a few minutes. United States Commer cial Agent Moore at Weimar has made the incident the subject of a special re port to the state department, in which after telling of the various theories put orth by the medical authorites to ac ount for the fatal action of the serum. ne declares that the child died from nerv ous shock, although it had been conclud- the envelope hastily, and inside found ed that the injection of the serum into a slip of paper on which was written a healthy person for prevention is a dan- in large letters: "Why don't you get gerous practice.

Pretty Dressing. Two women pass each other in the street of a provincial town; they are not acquainted, yet it is long odds that one of them turns around to look after the other-very short odds against both doing so. It is not the gait, says the Nineteenth Century, or the figure, or the hair of the stranger that has attracted attention, it is the dress, and not the person within it. The gentle anarchists who are busy organizing the debrutalization of man will, of course, attribute this little failing to the vacuity of the feminine mind by reason of man's tyranny in excluding women from boards of directors and other intellectual arenas. It may be conceded that psychology and betterment are more recondite fields than millinery, but this would be but a dull world and far uglier than it is, if every woman had a soul above chiffons. Odds grenadine and tarlatan! that were a consummation by no means desirable. No, let all men who have eyes to see withal or hearts to lose set great store by the pains bestowed on pretty dressing; but if one may speak and live, the art should be studied with subtler tact than is sometimes seen. It should be better concealed: it is distressing to see a young woman's eyes wandering over the dress of her with whom she is talking, for if the mind be engaged in taking note of external detail, conversation ceases to be intercourse, and becomes the crackling of thorns under the pot. Mr. Dyches attempted to San Miguel island, off Santa Barbara, to find the chests of Spanish doubloons which, according to tradition, were lost there years ago in the wreck of a Spanish bark. The second expedition, which is backed by a hotelkeeper in Stockton, makes Cocos island. off the coast of Central America, its objective point. Cocos island was once the resort of pirates and on it, the tale goes, some of the buccancers buried their riches. The Stockton hotelkeeper and his associates have gone to work in a businesslike way. They have secured a concession from the Nicaraguan government to farm the island for a number of years and have imported a number of Germans who, if the treasure does not turn up, will get what they can out of the land by growing coffee. So far their search has been unsuccessful, the directions on the chart which locates the pirates' hoard having led to nothing.

Effective Call.

A traveling man put up for the night at the leading hotel in a small town, and before retiring left explicit instructions to be called in time for an early train. He was very earnest about the matter, and threatened the clerk with all manner of punishment if that duty was neglected. Early in the morning the guest was disturbed by a lively tattoo upon the door. "Well?" he demanded; sleepily. "I've got an important message for you," replied the bellopened the door and received from the boy a large envelope. He tore open up?" He got up.

James has been working steadily for some time, but has never been able to make an exorbitant salary, and for that

BABY APPARENTLY IN DANGER. Horrifles Spectators by Appearing on a

Fifth-Story Ledge. On the fifth floor of a State street flat building, in Chicago, close to the alley "L," there lives a two-year-old baby Ordinarily there are wire screens at the windows, but the other afternoon the screens were taken down.

About three o'clock passengers on a north-bound elevated train saw the baby sitting all alone on the fifth-story window ledge with both feet dangling toward the pavement. In two minutes there were 50 people on the walk waiting to see the baby lose its balance and fall off the ledge.

But the baby didn't fall. For at least three minutes it waved its fists at the flat opposite and said "Aah," until a man in a black suit rushed across the street and into the flat where the baby lived.

About five minutes later an Italian woman and the man in the black suit appeared at the window behind the baby. The crowd couldn't hear what the woman was saying, and the baby was lifted into the room and the window was closed.

When the man in the black suit came out on the street the crowd had moved on. The woman had been trying to make him understand in Italian that the baby was tied to its perch with a BALLINGTON BOOTH CHEERED. Commander Deprecates Any Unkind Feeling Toward Old Army.

When Commander Ballington Booth the other night in Chicago entered the doorway of the West Madison street armory of the Volunteers and made his sand throats.

The tall leader merely bowed his acnowledgments. He looked worn and pale. When he spoke later it was with eeming effort.

"Now let everbody say 'Glory,' " said Brigadier Fielding. And everybody did say "glory" with such a will the pillars of the balconies trembled. Maj. Heron ed in prayer.

"And bless our dear commander. Amen," she concluded, and there was chorus of "Amens."

Then the commander spoke. He is not an orator, but he seemed, nevertheless, to hold that audience in the hollow of his hand. He deprecated any feeling of animosity toward the Salvation Army on the part of the Volunteers. The growth of the latter had been phenomenal, he said. There were 20 posts in Chicago and 26 in New York already. The commander was loudly cheered when he concluded.

A remarkable trial will be heard in Squire Wilson's court at West Newton, in a few days. It will probably be appealed to the common pleas court no matter what the decision may be. John Martin was engaged to Miss Hattie Phillips. The day before the wedding the bride, who had been ill several days, fell dead while decorating a window. Her death was due to hereditary heart boy. Two hundred and eighty-one birds, the largest number which the club has ever liberated from ne racing station, made the trip, and of that number every bird was reposing peacefully in its loft by one o'clock in the afterpoon. The time made by the first birds to arrive home was the fastest ever made over the course, and rep resents a speed of more than a mile a minute. The birds were liberated at Monee 42 miles away from the nearest loft at 7:30 o'clock, and White Wings, owned by L. Verschueren, stepped back in its loft at 8:141/2. White Wings was closely followed by nearly half the flock, and 50 arrivals were reported between 8:15 and 8:17. Inasmuch as every bird spent at east as much as five minutes in cirching before starting on a line for home, the speed shown is materially more than a mile in each 60 seconds.

As an illustration of how little ever the best fanciers are able to judge of the merits of their own pets, it is in teresting to note that White Wings had been considered almost worthless. Only a month ago he was flown from Sixty first street, a distance of eight miles to his loft, and took 16 days to make the journey. That was his first trial, and he was sent to Monee Saturday quite as much in the hope that he would be lost as for any other reason.

A HOUSEHOLD WORD.

Ludierous Blunder Which Was Made by a Presiding Officer,

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times-Herald relates a laughable incident in the career of Mr. Tars nev, of Missouri, who was until lately a member of congress from that state but was unseated by the house. The occurrence, it should be explained, took place some years ago, when Mr. Tarsney was not so well known as he is at pres-

It was in the midst of a political campaign, and Mr. Tarsney, who had gone to New York state in the service of his party, was announced to speak in a country town. The chairman of the meeting, a local celebrity, was properly minded to give the gentleman from Missouri a handsome reception.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "we have with us to-night one of the great est statesmen of the great west, an orator famed throughout the Mississippi valley, a gentleman whose name is to you a household word. Permit me to introduce to you Mr .-- Mr .--

Here the flow of his eloquence was checked, and leaning toward the orator of the evening, he whispered: "What did you say your name was?"

"Tarsney, of Missouri," whispered the German Women Societies.

There are at the present time no less than 1,500 societies in Germany organzed for the protection of young women of the working classes and devoted to their interests. A weekly journal with a circulation of 13,000 copies is printed for their benefit, Indigestion is often taken for consumption. The word consumption means wasting away, and dyspeptics often waste away as badly as consumptives.

The reason people waste away is because either they don't get enough to eat, or they don't digest what they do eat.

If the latter is your trouble, take Shaker Digestive Cordial. This will help you to digest your food and stop your loss of flesh. Shaker Digestive Cordial is made from herbs, barks and the juices of fruit, by the well-known Shakers at Mount Lebanon. It possesses great tonic and digestive powers. Shaker Digestive Cordial has cured many supposed consumptives (who were really dyspeptics), by simply helping their stomachs to digest their food, thus giving them nourishment and new strength.

CAN SEE THE X RAYS. Peculiar Ability of a Girl, the Lens of Whose Eye Has Been Removed.

A girl who can see the Roentgen rays has been found by Dr. Brandes, of Halle, who discovered her. Starting from the fact that the rays do not penetrate lenses, he hunted for some one the lens of whose eyes had been removed, an operation performed not rarely for extreme shortsightedness or for cataract. The girl, who had had the lens of her left eye removed, was able to see the light with it, though her right eye, which retained its lens, could see nothing. Dr. Brandes asserts that the rays affects the retina of the eye, and if anyone's hand is inclosed in an opaque vessel near the source of the rays the light can be seen even with closed eyes.

Figures Never Lie, But Their Basis May Be Faulty.

Figures may not lie, but on the basis of statistics may sometimes be very faulty. Commenting on this limitation of the statistician's science, Carroll D. Wright points out that, in the matter of crime, the number of sentences in a given state may vary with the legislaion. Laws are constantly being passed, and then, after a time, such laws may be repealed, with the result of vitiating conclusions obtained by comparing one year with another. This is illusrated by the record of liquor legislaiou in connection with crimes. Prohibitory legislation seems uniformly to forced, the number of convictions. A pleased with it." ew class of statistics is called into exa rule, the authorities of large cities re opposed to prohibitary laws, deeming licenses more rational or expedient. ney are accordingly often led to enforce prohibitory laws with extreme rigor in order to make them odious and ecure their repeal. With a license law they are lenient in making arrests of drunken persons. Thus it comes about that statistics seem to prove prohibition extremely prolific in crime, while licenses promote virtue. In any case, errors enter the record by reason of want of uniformity in methods in various parts of a given state. This want of uniformity at a particular date is exceeded by the variations between different dates. In recent years statistics are better kept than formerly, with the effect of appearing to show an increase of crime. But appearances are deceptive in this case, Mr. Wright thinks. In 1880 was 45,233, or 722 to the million of popu-

WOOD MOST USED.

Pine Is Fashioned Into the Greatest Variety of Products.

Oak can be put to the greatest variety of uses, but as a matter of fact pine wood is most used. A phenomenal demand for the latter in the wood-pulp industry has arisen within recent years. Over 1,000,000 tons of wood pulp were produced in the United States alone in 1894, and 240,000 tons in Norway and Sweden, the bulk of it from pine. Pine is also largely used in ship and house carpentry, and it is adaptable to so many purposes, and is so abundant, that it has come into almost universal requisition. Common turpentine is extracted from it, as are also tar, pitch, resin and lampblack. Splinters of the resinous roots are used by the Highlanders instead of candles.

Fishermen make ropes of the inner bark, and the Kamtchatkans and Laplanders steep the latter in water to natches is mostly pine, and the aggregate amount of pine wood used in these various industries exceeds that of all other kinds of wood put together.

It is believed the counterfeits, which absolutely defy detection, except when under a powerful magnifying glass in the hands of a clever expert, were made by Chinese in their native land and brought to this country last summer by the members of the troupe of Chinese actors who came to America to perform at the Atlanta exposition. Al most the entire troupe is now in San Francisco, having been filling engagements in Chinatown theaters since re-

It is estimated that $20,000 of the unauthorized coins have been disposed of by the Chinese, and that "Little Pete," the Chinaman of recent racetrack-job notoriety, was back of the scheme. However, the $20,000 realized has not been clear profit, as the counterfeits contain almost the same amount of pure silver as do the regularly low price of silver bullion gave the counterfeiters a good profit.

The demand for good short stories never ends. The difficulty is to meet the demand with nothing but stories of first-class quality. No paper in America does this better than The Youth's Companion. Week after week and year after year it comes out, always with good stories, new in plot and skillful in treatment, until one wonders where it gets them all and how it preserves its infinite variety. The editors of no other publication have a larger number of mannscripts submitted for them to choose from. Over seven thousand were received in the last prize competition. The result is that The Companion has in every issue several short stories of the kind that makes weariness an impossibility. The paper includes as Harold Frederic, C. A. Stephens, E. W. Thomson, and J. L. Harbour. Its special holiday editions are particularly noteworthy. Those who desire to be thoroughly posted on the great issues now before the country cannot afford to be without the July Arena. The question which undoubtedly takes precedence over all other questions at the present time is the money question. This subject is exhaustively dealt with; the Editor, Mr. B. O. Flower, in addition to some stirring editorials, contributes two remarkably strong papers to the controversy, one of which embodies the views of such prominent and authoritative thinkers as the noted financier and banker, Jay Cooke, Wm. P. St. John, president of the Mercantile National Bank of New York, and Judge Walter Clark, Lt. D., of the Supreme Bench of North Carolina. H. F. Bartine, in a closely reasoned and well-written paper, replies to a recent article in The Forum, by M. Paul Leroy Beaulieu, in favor of gold monometallism. Mr. Bartine makes a strong case for the white metal and refutes M. Beaulieu's arguments in a clear and logical manner that is calculated to bring conviction to unprejudiced minds. Other economic and social problems are discussed by live thinkers in this number of the Arena.

It Favors Prohibition, Woman Suffrage and Free Silver-Reason Given for the Formation of the New Organization.

Alliance, O., July 6 .- The national executive committee of the new national party has just issued an address from its headquarters in this city, setting forth the party's origin, principles and purposes. After reciting the fact of the party's organization at Iditsburgh, May 29, 1896, it announces its platform in 13 planks, which may be summarized

The Platform.

1. Absolute suppression of the traffic in liquor as a beverage and the sale of liquors for medicinal and other legitimate purposes by the state without profit.

2. Equal suffrage regardless of sex.

3. Bimetallism, sixteen to one, without consulting other nations and the abolition of national bank notes.

4. Reclamation of unearned land grants and the future limitation of public domain grants to actual settlers for continuous use.
5. Governmental ownership and operation of railroads, telegraphs "and other natural monoposies. 6. Amendment of the constitution to allow national revenues to be raised by equitable tax on properties and incomes, import duties to be levied as a means of securing equitable commercial relations with other nations.

7. Abolition of the contract labor system

8. Protection of citizens in their right to one day's rest in seven, whether Sunday or any other day, according to conscience. Teaching in American public schools to be in the English language and no pub-lic funds to be appropriated for sectarian institutions.

10. Election of president, vice president and senators by direct vote.

11. Liberal pensions for ex-soldiers and sailors, their widows and minor children, graded according to disability and term of service, "not merely as a debt of gratitude, but for service rendered in the preservation of the union."

12. Exclusion of pauper and criminal im-migrants and prevention of voting by nat-uralized citizens until one year after naturalization.

13. Adoption of the initiative and referendum and proportional representation.

An Explanation.

The address concludes with an explanation as to why the national party was organized. The explanation briefly is that, while the prohibition and people's parties each aim at certain reforms advocated by the new party, neither went far enough and both fell short of what political organization should stand for. All citizens who desired the good of the whole people and the overthrow of political wrongs are invited to vote for Charles E. Bentley for president and James H. Southgate for vice president of the United States in November. The address is signed by the members of the national executive committee. The are: L. B. Logan, chairman; John P. St John, vice chairman; D. J. Thomas secretary; A. M. Todd, treasurer; Helen M. Gougar, John Lloyd Thomas and R. S. Thompson.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 8.—An interesting discovery of a cave in Brown county has just been made and parties here are preparing to explore it in the near future.

A heavy rain last week washed the soil away from the mouth of the cave, which opens in a creek and leads to a chamber 50 feet below the surface. This chamber is trimmed with rock like formations, which reflect the light like diamonds. A number of halls lead off from this chamber, one of which opens into a regular ice vault. The He will be in Washington quite a porsides of this vault are covered with tion of the present summer for that ice and frost and a little farther along purpose. the ground is frozen as in the dead of winter.

Still farther along there is a mam moth chamber fully 100 feet in width and proportionate in height, which is studded with ice formations, the aperture looking like a dozen icebergs heaped together. The ice extends downward to a depth unknown and the cold is intense. No explanation is offered for this singular phenomenon.

Probably Killed by a Tramp.

Kenosha, Wis., July 6 .- The body of Mrs. August Hilgendorf was found in a milkhouse at her home in Pleasant Prairie, near this city, at six p. m. Saturday, with her skull crushed and throat cut, the implement of death being a corn knife. She had evidently been dead about three hours. The other members of the family were in Kenosha celebrating, but, it is said, her husband went home at about three o'clock. Both he and a son, who found the murdered woman, are under arrest, but many attribute the crime to tramps.

Milwaukee, July 7 .- F. L. Wilkins, general secretary of the Baptist Young People's union, and W. H. Merritt, the general business manager of the union arrived in this city to confer with the local officers and committees regarding the convention to be held in this city next week. The indications are that from 10,000 to 12,000 strangers will be in the city.

Crops in Many States Progressing Very Favorably.

the condition of the crops throughout the country made by the directors of the several climate and crop sections are as follows:

are as follows:

Ohio—Warm days and nights, local showers and plenty of sunshine favored the growth of all crops. Wheat harvest is about over and mostly housed or stacked; some threshing has been done with poor yield. Some oats have been cut, with fine prospect. Corn made splendid progress and is silking. Gardens are in good condition; barley and rye fair, barley cutting begun. Tobacco did well; some chinch bugs in corn; grapes are promising.

Michigan—The weather has been generally favorable for haying and harvesting; haying nearing completion; wheat and rye cutting well advanced, and considerable has been secured. Warm weather has advanced corn rapidly; oats are in fine condition and are beginning to turn. Pastures are rather poor and need rain; other crops are in good shape.

Indiana—Warm, fair weather and only a few local rains which have been very favorable. Corn and oats never better, the latter ripening. Tobacco is good, but worms are doing infury. Wheat and rye threshing has continued; much hay put up; timothy harvest progresses; tomatoes are abundant.

Illinois—Favorable week for work; hay-up; timothy harvest progresses; tomatoes are abundant.

Illinois—Favorable week for work: haying, oat harvest and the completion of wheat and rye harvest have been general. Some thrashing and much stacking of wheat and rye have been done: wheat yield not uniform, but generally poor in south and southeast counties, elsewhere fair. Corn growing finely, all early fields in the south half of state show silk and tassel; pastures, gardens, potatoes and broom corn in good condition.

Iowa—Favorable weather for growing crops, but heavy local storms caused increased damage to the ripening spring wheat and oats. Corn much improved and generally laid by; barley harvest and haying in progress, with yield of hay above average.

nesota-Rains few and local. Limit

Minnesota—Rains few and local. Limited areas now affected by drought: small grain uneven with wheat poorest, badly rusted and in worse condition in north part of state. Potatoes and corn are excellent and are making rapid growth. A large yield of hay is being secured.

Missouri—Another growing week. Haying and oat harvest progressed favorably in central and southern, but were delayed by showers in northern section. Corn needing rain in some sections, but generally growing rapidly and the earliest is in roasting ear condition. Cotton and tobacco are doing well.

DEED OF A JEALOUS WOMAN. She Burns Herself and Her Little Daugh ter to Death. Hillsboro, Ill., July 6 .- Shortly be fore midnight Friday night, Mrs. Rob ert Young, residing with her husband and family at Donnellson, ten mile south of this city, locked herself and her ten-year-old daughter in a bed room, and, after saturating the bed with kerosene, ignited it, burning her self and daughter to death. The house was entirely consumed. The husband who occupied another apartment, suc ceeded in getting their other five chil dren out of the building alive. Mrs Young has been exceedingly jealous of her husband for several months, and it is thought that this caused temporary insanity.

Murdered at a Dance. Alliance, Neb., July 6.-W. H. Hubbell, a wealthy stockman of this place, attended a dance at Lakeside Saturday night and was found near the railroad track early Sunday morning breathing his last. A deep wound, presumably made by a blow from a revolver on the back of his head, caused death. It is supposed that revenge was the motive He was brought to this city Sunday morning. There is little clew to the murderer.

A STORY OF CRIME.

Remarkable Developments in an Indiana Murder Mystery.

Innocent Man Seeking

a Pardon. An effort is being made to secure a pardon for John Sexson, a prisoner serving a 21-year sentence in the Jeffersonville (Ind.) penitentiary for murder. The crime for which Sexson was convicted was committed in Thorntown, Boone county, and the peculiarity of the developments of the case attracted widespread attention throughout the country. At 11 o'clock on the night of August 17, 1894, Hiram McDonald was found lying in a pool of blood on Vine street in Thorntown. He was suffering from a wound on the back of the head, and never regained consciousness.

few moments after McDonald's body was found, John Sexson, in company with Charles Patterson, of Thorntown, and John Gott, a young man of Lebanon, called at the home of Justice Gant. Sexson complained that he had been assaulted and struck with a rock by McDonald, and swore to an affidavit, charging the latter with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for Mc-Donald's arrest, but the officer in whose hands it had been placed for service found him dying at the residence of William Sutton, to which he had been Sexson admitted having struck McDonald with a cane, but claimed to have acted in self-defense. He was arrested, and held on a charge of

At the preliminary hearing both Patterson and Gott testified in Sexson's behalf, and corroborated his story. Sexson's trial began February 4, 1895. Pat terson, who had been arrested a short time after the murder on a charge of burglary, testified for the defense, but Gott had fled the country to evade arrest, it having been learned that he perjured himself while testifying at the preliminary trial. Sexson was found guilty and given a 21-year sentence. A motion asking for a new trial was overruled by the court. A few days after he was sentenced he told Prosecuting Attorney Gulley that he was not the man who killed Me-Donald. According to his story, Patterson and McDonald engaged in a quar rel, which resulted in Patterson's striking McDonald with a piece of gas pipe, which he had taken from a saloon with the avowed intention of killing some one. Finding McDonald had been seriously injured, Patterson prevailed on Sexson to take the blame for the killing on himself, urging that his good reputation, together with evidence which Pat terson would secure, would acquit him. Patterson insisted that Sexson would be convicted as an accomplice, unless he did as he suggested. Sexson finally agreed, and the theory of the defense was outlined by Patterson. During the trial eight witnesses testified for the defense, who, Sexson declared, were hired by Patterson to give false testimony.

Sexson was returned to Lebanon where he went before the Boone county grand jury and retold his story. As a result, an indictment was returned against Patterson, charging him with the murder. Patterson was convicted, and received a six-year sentence. At the time sentence was passed on him, Patterson made an eloquent address to the court. He reiterated his original story of the crime, and said that Sexson had been promised assistance by the saloon element of Thorntown. For this reason, Patterson claimed, Sexson told his remarkable story. Patterson was sent to the Michigan City prison, where he is reported as dying of con-

Since Patterson's conviction Sexson's friends have been untiring in their efforts to secure his release, his wife taking a leading part in the movement. The main obstacle met with is the fact that Sexson committed perjury in his as he has admitted, that the latter wa guilty of murder. For this reason the friends of the prosecution are not sign ing the petition for a pardon very freely In the meantime two men are confined behind prison walls, each convicted of having murdered the same man. Sexson still claims that Patterson is guilty of murder, while Patterson insists that Sexson killed Hiram McDonald in self-defense.

THE SUPERLATIVE NEW WOMAN. Refuses to Take the Name of Her New Husband.

Miss Polly A. Duncan and Charles H. Lamb, of Bement, Ill., were married the other evening in St. Louis, the ceremony being performed by a woman preacher, Mrs. Mattie Hart Younkin.

The bride retains her maiden name and will be known as Mrs. Polly A. Duncan, wife of Charles H. Lamb. The husband at first objected to this part of the proceeding, but finally submitted. The bride has been for a number of years identified with the temperance cause and is a strong advocate of woman's rights The bridegroom is wealthy farmer.

COAT OF TAR FOR A WOMAN. Four Canadians Shamefully Maltreat a Dweller in Shingletown.

Four disguised men went to the house of Mrs. Mary Koehler in Shingletown, Ont. They tore her garments from her person and then covered her body with tar, and wound up their brutality by carrying her about on a fence rail. Amos Hamacher and Charles Katzenmeir were arrested. Hamacher confessed and implicated J. H. Hamacher and H. Habel, warrants for the arrest of whom have been issued. The assault grew, so it is said, out of a report that Mrs. Koehler did not give her stepdaughter enough to eat.

STORY OF A RING.

It Proved an Ill Omen to All Who Ownea It.

It is stated upon what appears to be good authority that in one of the parks in the Spanish capital city of Madrid a magnificent ring hangs by a silken cord about the neck of the statue of the Maid of Almodma, the patron saint of Madrid. This ring, says Harper's Round Table, though set with diamonds and pearls, is nevertheless entirely unguarded. The police pay no attention to it, nor is there any provision made for watching it by special officers, because it is not believed that any thief, however daring, would venture to appropriate it to his own use; and when the histor of the ring is considered, it is hardly to be wondered at that a superstitious people prefer to give it a wide berth. According to the story that is told of it, the ring was made for King Alfonso XII., the father of the present king of Spain. Alfonso presented it to his cousin, Mercedes, on the day of their betrothal. How short her married life was all know; and on her death the king presented the ring to his grandmother, Queen Christina. Shortly afterwards Queen Christina died, and the king gave the ring to his sister, the Infanta del Pilar, who died within the month following. The ring was then given to the youngest daugh ter of the Duc de Montpensier. In less than three months she died, and Alfonso, by this time fearing that there was some unlucky omen connected with the bauble, put it away in his own treasure box. In less than a year the king himself died, and it was deemed best to put the ring away from all the living. Hence it was hung about the neck of the bronze effigy of the Maid of Almodma, where it appears to be as safe as though surrounded by a cordon of

WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

They Compel Us to Believe Almost Anything Possible. People are now familiar with the idea of storing up sound for future use so that a man's voice can be beard long after he is dead. It has recently been suggested that somewhere in the storehouse of nature the sight of all that has taken place is stored up, and that Moses go his account of the creation from a kind of kinetoscope which was disclosed to him as he stood in the cleft of the rock and saw the pictures of the procession of events pass by. As Dr. Johnson said, we have seen so much that we are pre pared to believe more. When people in New York city can hear the roar of Niagara, when machinery can be driven by a water wheel 500 miles distant, when we can see through boards and take pho tographs of a fat man's bones and the money in his pockets, when we can talk with our friends a thousand miles away and recognize the tones of their voices, when we can warm the baby's milk at night by touching a button, we must be obstinate, indeed, if we refuse to believe anything. There is nothing in the "Arabian Nights" as marvelous as the things seen at the electrical exposition in New York. And yet, says the Baltimore Sun, if we apply the logic of David Hume in his essays on the miracles to these things, we should refuse to believe that a photograph of a living man's skeleton may be taken. Hume refused to credit the miracles because they are contrary to all human experience. It is a matter of curious speculation, have we reached the limit of knowledge of electricity, or are we upon the threshold of scientific revelations? Will we in time discover that apartment of nature's storehouse where she keeps the sights and sounds of past ages?

DIPLOMAT WAS CHILLED.

The French Minister at Washington Loved the Highest Place Too Well.

An interesting story is being told in Washington regarding M. Patenotre, the French ambassador. After congress passed the law empowering the president to send ambassadors to such countries as would raise the rank of their representatives, Sir Julian attempt to shield Patterson, knowing, Pauncefote was the first to inform the president of the intention of his country to make him an ambassador. M. Patenotre conceived the ambition to be the dean of the ambassadors and communicated it to his home government, and his commission arrived before Sir Julian's. He went to the state department in the hope of immediate recognition as the first ambassador to this country. He was told that Sir Julian had anticipated him by informing the department of the action of his government. He was angry and wrote to the president requesting his intervention. He received instead a chilly letter from

EXPENSIVE MIRROR.

Will Bring the Moon Within Thirty-Eight Miles of the Eye.

A special train brought into Paris 3 few days ago, wrapped in heavy felt blankets, bound with soft wood hoops, a rough block of crystal, which is to form the mirror of the huge telescope at the 1900 exhibition. In its present state the piece of glass weighs 6,600 pounds and has already cost $20,000. It will cost $30,000 more and take 30 months of polishing by a novel and secret mechanical process before it is finished. Its diameter is nearly seven feet, and it is expected to bring the moon within 39 miles of the eye, but the chief experts of the Paris observatory say that its images will not be so distinct as theirs are now at 94 miles, which they believe is the utmost practicable limit.

The Doctor Was Disgusted.

The negro, Simpkins, who cut his throat with a razor, was in front of the doctor's premises at the time. In fact, he was right on the doctor's sidewalk, which is a nicely-paved and kept walk, of which the owner is rather careful. At the inquest the doctor described the borrible sight when the negro slashed his throat with the razor. "Then," said the doctor, "I shouted to him to get off the sidewalk."

SWEDE WEARS GREEN.

Incident in Chicago That Shows There Is

No Nationality in Sweaters. The fat bicyclist and the scorcher were leisurely pedaling along Jackson boulevard one day last week, when a bicyclist with a bright green sweater went scorehing past them, says the Chicago Chronicle. "I wonder who that was," said the fat bicyclist. "It must be some patriotie Irishman." "I'll find out who he is," said the scorcher as he humped over his handle bars and overhauled the man with the green sweater.

"Hello, there, old man," he sung out as he came alongside.

"Oh, ae ben gude." "What?" cried the scorcher.

"Ae tank mae maeshane hae ben broke." The scorcher dropped back in silence and the green sweater passed on. "Let's go over here and get some lemonade," said the scorcher when the fat bicyclist caught up with him. "I want to take something for my nerves.'

"What's the matter?"

"Sh, that was a Swede." Then they agreed that one can't tell much about a bicyclist by the kind of sweater he wears.

CUBAN-AMERICAN FAIR.

Gorgeous Affair Opened in New York for Purpose of Raising Money.

The great fair for Cuba libre, or the Cuban-American fair, was formally opened the other night in the Madison Square garden. The garden presented a gorgeous appearance, with many lights and the blending of the Cuban flag with "Old Glory" while the gailydecorated booths added to and heightened the general effect. There were everywhere hosts of dark-eyed beauties, who did their best to wheedle the seductive coin from the purses of the large number of visitors, and there were early indications that they were eminently successful.

A letter was received from the executive mansion at Albany stating that Gov. Morton had received the invitation to attend, but that he much regretted that public duties precluded his attendance. The opening address was made by Mr. Fidel Pierra, chairman of the executive committee of the Cuban junta, and speeches were also delivered by Tomas Estrada Palma, Arghenta, Arlina Hamm and Maj. Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, late minister to Spain.

LED A DUAL LIFE.

Application for a Pension on Death of an Old Soldier Reveals a Sensation. Investigation of the application for a pension of Mrs. Frederick Pence, of To ledo, v., has brought to light the dual life of Samuel Pence, who recently died there. It showed that Pence had for more than 30 years concealed from his second wife the fact that within 120 miles from Toledo there lived a woman te whom he was legally married, and from whom he had never been divorced; hat during those 30 years while raising family of five children here, he had two sons growing up in Cleveland, the result of the first marriage, and and who now reside in the Forest city with their mother. When Pence came here from Cleveland, which was shortly after he had served his term of enlistment in a regiment that participated in the re bellion, he had a friend write to his wife that he had died in Goshen, Ind. Mrs. Pence No. 1 accepted the statement without question, and never made any investigation. The marriage to Mrs Pence No. 2 followed.

DRINK FOR THIRSTY DOGS. Humane Physician Furnishes Ice Water for Canine Wayfarers.

"Ice water for dogs." This is the inscription, neatly lettered, on a sign dis played before a small shallow zinc trough in front of a physician's office in Washington. The trough is painted a sky-blue color, and always contains water which passes through a refrigerator. By a floating valve the flow of water is regulated. The dogs are not supposed to read the sign, but they have discovered that the water is for their benefit, and many of them stop daily to drink from the trough.

ENABLE CAVALRY TO CLIMB. Nevel Spur That May Be Adopted by the

German Troops. Successful experiments have just een made in two dragoon regiments in the garrison at Metz of a novel spur invented by a locksmith of that city. Cavalrymen equipped with this spur are enabled in a few seconds to climb telegraph poles to cut the wires. A report upon the experiments has been made by Gen. Haesler, commanding the Sixteenth corps, to the minister of war at Berlin, who is considering the advisability of their adoption by all the German mounted troops.

Fight with Crows.

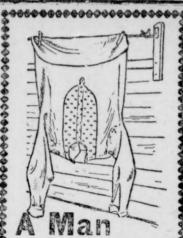

While Allen Newman, of Decker, Ind. was hunting the other day he fired upon a flock of cranes and wounded one When he attempted to capture the crippled bird it struck at him viciously with its beak and tried to tear out his eyes. The infuriated crane made such a noise that the rest of the flock returned to its aid and all set upon Mr. Newman, who beat them off with his gun. The fight lasted until 13 cranes lay dead upon the field, and the hunter was exhausted before he won the battle.

Fashionable Billiards.

A novel match of billiards was played recently at one of the West End, London, clubs. One player was attired in a full suit of armor and wore on his hands ten Berlin gloves; the other wore boxing gloves. The game was 1,000 up, each player giving the other 980. The man with the "mittens" won.

Romantic Story of a Man Just Released from Prison in Indiana.

Prosecuted and Sent to Jail by His Enraged Father-in-Law, Who Later Repents of His Harshness and Attempts to Secure a Parden.

Joseph Stultz was released from the prison south at Jeffersonville, Ind., the other day after completing a ten-years' sentence. The story of his life and the circumstances connected with the crime which placed him behind prison bars is a strange one. Stultz was met upon his release by his former wife and her father, who spent a fortune in convicting him and afterward had the marriage of Stultz and his daughter annulled. Both now greeted him with open arms.

Nearly ten years ago Joe Stultz was a leading member of Louisville society and a member of the Louisville legion. He became acquainted with pretty Carrie Ashley, daughter of William Ashley, a member of a wealthy tailoring firm of Louisville, and the husband of a sister of Stultz. Through his relationship Stultz had an excellent opportunity for love-making and he wooed and won Miss Ashley and they eloped to New Albany and were married by Rev. Charles Hutchinson, of the Third Presbyterian church. Docie Hunt, a wellknown young man, made the affidavit as to Miss Ashley's age.

As soon as the news reached Mr. Ashley he went to New Albany and caused warrants to be issued for both Hunt and Stultz, charging them with perjury and subornation of perjury, respectively, and so great was his anger that Mr. Ashley gave up his business and devoted himself to the punishment of the men who had taken his daughter away. Mrs. Stultz, nee Ashley, who had before seemingly been infatuated with her husband, also joined with her father in the prosecution. Before the trial Stultz and Hunt attempted to escape from jail, but were recaptured.

The trial was long and bitterly contested, but Hunt was convicted and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment and Stultz to ten years. Soon after Mr. Ashley had the marriage of his daughter and Stultz annulled. As time passed Mr. Ashley lost his possessions and he became a comparatively poor man, and the feelings which he and his daughter entertained for Stultz became softened. Some time ago they began circulating petitions for Stultz' pardon, Mr. Ashley making several unsuccessful trips to Indianapolis in his behalf. Stultz proved to be an exemplary convict, and his good time shortened his term almost two years. Immediately following his release Mr. Stultz and his former wife were reunited in magriage, Dr. Hutchinson again officiating.

WILLFUL DESTRUCTION OF MAIL Matter Plainly Addressed Burned at Cripple Creek, Col.

Wagon load after wagon load of mail matter was taken from the Cripple Creck (Col.) post office the other afternoon to the city dump, where an attempt was made by the postmaster's assistants to burn it. What was not consumed was covered with offal. When it became known to the public that a wholesale destruction of mails was going on, many citizens went out to the dump and saved some of their mail. In nearly every instance the mail thrown away was plainly addressed, the box number appearing in full view. Mail was there for some of the most prominent citizens of the camp.

One of the worst features of the affair is the fact that mail addressed to other places was destroyed. When Postmaster Rose was called upon for explanation he said the burning done on the authority of the post office inspector.

The postmaster acknowledged that some mail was destroyed which ought not to have been. Reputable citizens say that they pay into the post office at certain intervals a stipulated sum of money for the privilege of receiving mail in advance of other people who do not pay extra. An official investigation will be asked for.

CURFEW FOR ST. LOUIS. President of Boys' and Girls' Home Tells

What a Success It Would Be.

Alexander Hoageland, president of the Boys' and Girls' National Home and Employment association, who is heading the new municipal reform movement known as the "curfew ordinance," is in St. Louis, and will, through the national board, at an early day apply for an ordinance from the St. Louis city council. The colonel said that the ordinance was in force at Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., and St. Joseph, Mo., and 200 smaller cities, and that it was a theme of commendation with the officials, press, shop owners and storekeepers, and parents generally. He has strong letters from the chiefs of police at Omaha, Lincoln and St. Joseph giving the ordinance their hearty approval. Lincoln officials report a falling off of 75 per cent. in crimes and arrests mong the youth of the city for the first month. The mayor of one city writes that "for two years before enacting the ordinance 14 boys and girls were committed to the reform school and for the two years following its enactment none were committed."

BIG SHEEP DRIVE.

Over Forty Thousand to Be Taken from Eastern Oregon to Montana and Dakota.

F. J. Hagenbarth, who represents the Wood Live Stock company of Idaho and Utah, is making preparations for a big drive of sheep from this section to eastern ranges. It will be the largest band of sheep ever started on its summer drive from eastern Oregon, says the Pendleton East Oregonian. Mr. Hagenbarth has already purchased 40,000 sheep for the drive, and will buy still more, so that when the drive begins there will be about 43,000. They are mostly yearling ewes, and are destined part for southern Montana and part for Dakota. The sheep will be placed on ranges and grown, some for mutton only, and about 25,000 for wool and mutton. The company represented by Mr. Hagenbarth has headquarters in Beaver canyon, Idaho. The sheep have been purchased in Umatilla, Morrow and Cook counties.

Mr. Hagenbarth will employ 28 men and use 48 horses in the enterprise. He has adopted an idea which will be new among men making these eastern drives. The custom has been to carry all supplies in wagons. It being necesstry to keep the wagons near the sheep the drive had to follow the beaten paths, and often the sheep suffered for want of sufficient food. They were often taken over long stretches where dry, dusty plains caused the loss of many sheep. Mr. Hagenbarth will carry all supplies on pack horses, and can, therefore, go through the mountains, where the grass is plentiful, ignoring the roads, going anywhere he pleases so long as there are trails over which the pack horses can travel. As they can travel almost anywhere, the sheep can be kept on good feed all the time, and Mr. Hagenbarth anticipates taking his sheep through in good condition and with minimum loss.

HONORS TO WOMAN ARTIST. Miss Trowbridge, an American Girl, Excels in Miniature Painting. Speaking of American girls in Paris the Illustrated American says: Miss Lucy Parkman Trowbridge is the daughter of the late Prof. Trowbridge of Yale and Columbia universities Gifted from her youth with an artistic perception, it was the earnest hope and realized wish of her friends that she should have the advantages resulting from study abroad. Technically, per haps, quite as much may be learne here at home, but one loses the valuable environment of the Paris studies.

Miss Trowbridge has more than fulfilled what was expected of her. Leav ing her home in New Haven, Conn., only about a year ago, she has succeeded in accomplishing her aim with remark able celerity and success.

Miss Trowbridge's special metier is the painting of miniatures, and to this walk of art life, less crowded than other highways, she has devoted her attention. Our American Kauffman, Miss Trowbridge, became the pupil of Macmonnies, the sculptor of world's fair fame, and also entered the atelier of Armand Jean.

At the recent salon of the Champ de Mars Miss Trowbridge exhibited three miniatures. At this salon no medals are given or honorable mention made, but pictures are numbered according to merit, those marked "1" ranking first as medal productions.

Four thousand pictures were entered for this contest. Of this large number but 12 received "No. 1," and Miss Trowbridge's miniatures of Mrs. Denton, Miss Catharine Caldwell and Howard Hart were of these 12 chosen art

HE BLAMES THE MILLIONAIRES. Tramp Tells a Convention Why He Is a

An anti-tramp convention, under the auspices of the American Anti-tramp society, was held at Madison, Wis., the other day. Sessions were held in the assembly chamber in the afternoon and evening. W. D. Cornell, of Fond du Lac, presided at the meetings. The sessions were devoted to a general discussion of the tramp evil, its causes and effects and the best means of remedying it. Addresses were made by Prof. A. O. Wright, Prof. W. A. Scott, President Cornell, Rev. H. A. Miner, Clarence Snyder, Rev. F. E. Lyon and others. A feature of the afternoon's session was an address by a tramp. He said that the millionaires are responsible for the large number of tramps in this country They encourage immigration and the result is that there are two men for one job, and this brings about an army of tramps. A resolution was adopted urging the construction and maintenance of a workhouse for tramps in Dane

Prices of Ice.

New Yorkers think that their ice is too dear. The price this summer will be 70 cents per 100 pounds. The New York Herald finds that in most other cities of the country ice is cheaper. Ac cording to that newspaper Cleveland pays 55 cents per 100 pounds. Washington and Pittsburgh 50 cents. Cincinnati, Chicago and Philadelphia 40 cents. Savannah and Atlanta 35 cents, and Boston 25 cents.

LI HUNG CHANG COMING.

This Notable Personage to Tour America on His Way Home.

After the Coronation of the Crar He Will Meet Mr. Spitzel in London or Paris, Who Will Act as His Escort.

Among the recent arrivals from China via Vancouver, was Louis Spitzel, of Shanghai, the sole representative of the Thames iron works in China, who has been delegated by the emperor of the Flowery Kingdom to go and meet Li Hung Chang, who is attending the coronation of the czar at Moscow. He will conduct the great Chinese through America and will go to San Francisco, where he and his charge will take ship for China. Mr. Spitzel is accompanied by his son and his secretary.

Mr. Spitzel will not be able to reach Moseow at the end of the coronation exercises, so he will meet Li Hung Chang in Paris or London, and after being with him awhile there will start for the United States.

"Li Hung Chang has a retine of 60 persons with him, including Lord Li and several other notable persons, besides his secretaries and followers," said Mr. Spitzel.

"Li Hung Chang does not speak English, but is so shrewd a man that no difference in what language you speak, he knows from your manner substantially what you have said. He is an extraordinary character in every way, and he is stronger than ever he was in China. He is bigger than the Chinese

"He has been the real man behind China all along. He petitioned the emperor three years ago for an army and navy that would meet the exigencies of the case. He saw what was coming and wanted to be ready. But he could not convince anybody that he was right. "When fault was found with him at the time of the war he produced copies of his petition to the emperor. His position then was acknowledged as being right, and he is a bigger man to-day than he has ever been. They see that he is the only man who can reform China.

"I think there will be only one viceroy, and that he will be Li Hung Chang. "The Americans have a chance to get in and build railways there. Li Hung Chang told me he was very friendly to Americans, and tacitly said that he felt like favoring the people of this coun-"I will meet him in London or Paris, come back to Southampton with him and then cross to New York. We will stay there a short time and then go to Pets in a Fight Turn Mistresses' Friendship Into Bitter Enmity.

It was all on account of a black and tan dog and a meek pussy of the Maltese tribe, and now nothing but a justice hop session can smooth out the fracas. Mrs. Milligan lives at 80 Milton avenue, Chicago, and the black and tan is her especial pride. Mrs. Brown resides at 84 Milton avenue and fancies kittens for pets. Both women are well along in years and have been the best of

But the other day, alas! Mrs. Brown's eat broke into Mrs. Milligan's back yard and mixed up with the canine. The latter was prevented from roaming off by a long clothesline tied to his collar. The dog was having the best of the argument when Mrs. Brown dashed into the yard. The cat immediately took refuge on his mistress' shoulder and the dog came in for a trounging Mrs. Milligan then heard her pet's yelps of distress and ran to the rescue.

Then the two women and the cat and the dog mixed up in a fracas, the noise of which was powerful enough to attract Officer De Leale, of the East Chicago avenue station. The policeman forcibly separated all four combatants.

Edward Licklederer at Atchison. A most singular bicycle accident occurred in Atchison, Kan., the other evening, as a result of which Edward Licklederer, aged 22 years, is a sufferer from unusual wounds which probably will prove fatal. Young Licklederer was coasting down North Fifth avenue, a very steep thoroughfare, and speeding at a rate of 30 miles or more an hour, when, losing control of his machine, he was shot through a large plate glass window of a corner store, landing against the inside wall on the far side of the building with terrific force. His head was almost chopped to pieces. His nose was splintered, his ears almost torn off and his face and body were lacerated with many cuts that reached to the bone and which, even should he recover, will horribly disfigure him for Ernest Duez, the painter, whose death vas announced recently, was riding a bicycle in the forest of Saint-Germain and fell dead from congestion of the brain. He and Maupassant were talking about death at a dinner party some years ago, Duez saying that as long as man must die it is better to die in bed, claimed: "The worst thing about death | The remedy is for sale by druggists.; jly is the illness. It is far better to drop down without feeling it." Neither had his wish.

Tramps of Tender Years. Sleeping in the open air is a grievous and severely-punished offense in England. Two little girls, one five years Washington, and possibly to Chicago, old, the other two, were brought before a London police magistrate recently, charged with sleeping out without visible means of subsistence. He refused to commit them and ordered them to be let loose in the streets again, as their parents had abandoned them.

Had a Sarcastle Tongue. Dr. Parr had the largest notion cf his own skill at whist and the smallest tolerance for a poor opponent. A lady once asked him at a card party how he fared. "Pretty well, madame," was the pleasing reply, which he made loud enough for his partner to hear, "considering that I have three adversaries." On another occasion he was playing with Dr. Warner, the rector of Bath, who hazarded a finesse which did not come off. In a moment Parr flashed upon him: "Dick," said he, "you have all the cunning of a Bath sharper without his skill." The next hand which Warner assumed their natural placidity. In a Regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable. tone of condescension he drawled out, with his usual lisp: "I acquit you of trickery, Richard; would that I could of stupidity."

She Couldn't Wait.

When Mme. Melba was in Washington recently she met Speaker Reed in the capitol. "Why don't you have a fight here?" she said to him, in laughing protest. "I would much rather see a fight than hear a speech." "Then, why didn't you let me know you were coming?" said Speaker Reed, gallantly. "I would have had a fight for your special delight, and if you will only wait I will go on the floor and start a row this minute." But Mme. Melba couldn't. wait, and the speaker's offer came to Every bull killed in a Mexican bull light is allowed to gore two horses if he will. The Mexicans love the sight of blood and applaud frantically when the poor horses are torn open. The horses used for the purpose are a most miserable lot. The owner gets three dollars in Mexican money for each horse sent into the ring and $12 additional if the animal is killed. A Mexican dollar is worth about 55 cents in American money.

In order to prevent confusion between my ind dual accounts and those of the firm of Drs. Smythe & Tucker, it is desirable that all old debts, contracted prior to July 1, 1895, be closed without unnecessary delay. 3t15. G. C. SMYTHE.

The Tables Turned.

In England it is a common thing to see clergymen's wives inviting ladies to come to them as general servants for the honor and glory of the thing, but the tables have been turned by three ladies in a London suburb, who have advertised for a gentlewoman to do the work of their cottage. The gentlewoman required must, according to the advertisement, not only be strong, active and an early riser, but must be a clergyman's or professional man's daughter. A critic remarks that the advertisers would doubtless feel degraded by sleeping in a bed made by the hands of a young woman whose father had been in trade.
